HARD DRIVEN.

The mother slowly times her footsteps to those of her baby driver. Yet she is hard driven because not alone in the brief moments of play, but all day long must she keep pace with baby's wants and needs. Generally the mother who experiences a larger demand on her energies has less and less strength to respond. Sometimes she suffers from diseases peculiar to her sex, and often has never thoroughly recovered her strength after baby's coming.

For all women who are weakened by womanly diseases or who are run-down by maternal and household cares Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is commended as a medicine which promptly cures disease and restores the strength. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures a female weakness. It is unexcelled as a tonic and nerve for weak, run-down women.

"If mothers who dread the baby's coming would take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they would find it a great help and benefit," writes Mrs. L. E. Henderson (President Milwaukee Woman's Literary Club), of 64 Grand Ave., Milwaukee, Wis. "After the birth of my first child I did not seem to regain my health so began to take your medicine, and in two weeks I felt stronger and able to do about as much as before. I also found that it was of benefit to take a few months prior to baby's advent; in fact it is of great benefit in all forms of female weakness."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

CATARRH Nasal Catarrh

In all its stages there should be cleanliness. Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly. CREAM BALM is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail. Trial Size, 10 cents by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 66 Warren Street, New York.

KODOL Digests What You Eat.

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, no organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time delicate but vital organs become diseased.

Kodol Digests What You Eat. Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: "After eating, my food would digest me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammelled action. Bottles only, $1.00. Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50c."

It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea, in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Your Chest Should Be Breezy. The doctor bears some curious noises when he places his stethoscope against your chest. When the lungs are in a healthy condition, the medical gentleman hears a pleasant, breezy sound, soft in tone, as you draw in the breath and expel it. Should the instrument convey to his ear a gurgling or bubbling sound, he makes a mental note of the fact that you are in what is known as the moist stage of bronchitis. In the dry stage of the same complaint the sound is a whistling, wheezy one.

One of the signs of pneumonia is the crackling note that comes through the stethoscope. It is not unlike the sound that can be heard when your fingers and thumb have touched a sticky substance and you first place them together and then part them, holding them close to your ear. Doctors occasionally hear a dripping sound, and that indicates that air and water have got into some part of the chest where they have no right to be. Blow across a bottle and you will produce a sound which is actually to be heard in your chest. It is caused in the same way—that is, by air passing over a cavity.

The Growth of the Acorn. The seed germ is a very small object at the pointed end of the acorn, with the future root uppermost. The acorn drops, and its contents doubtless undergo important molecular and chemical changes while it lies under winter covering of leaves or snow. In the mild warmth of spring the acorn swells, the little root elongates, emerges from the end of the shell and, no matter what the position of the acorn, turns downward. The root penetrates the soil two or three inches before the stalk begins to show itself and grow upward. The "meat" of the acorn nourishes both root and stalk, and two years may pass before its store of food is entirely exhausted. At the end of a year the young oak has a root twelve to eighteen inches long, with numerous shorter rootlets, the stalk being from six to eight inches high. In this stage it differs from the tree. To watch these transformations under the lens is a fascinating occupation.

Some of Jerrold's Wit. Douglas Jerrold, the playwright, once complained of the inferior company that was performing one of his plays at the Haymarket theater in London. "Why, there's V," said the manager, protesting. "He looks as if he had been cut out of them," growled Jerrold. The playwright was always very nervous on a "first night." Another dramatist, popularly supposed to "lift" his plots and situations from the French, assured him that he did not know the meaning of nervousness on such an occasion. "I can quite understand that," the wit said pleasantly; "your places have always been tried before."

"Call that a kind man," said an actor, speaking of an acquaintance who was abroad—"a man who is away from his family and never sends them a farthing! Call that kindness!" "Certainly," said Jerrold; "unrelenting kindness!"

Where Ruth Got Her Information. "How did Columbus get the money to equip his ships and pay other expenses of his expedition?" asks the teacher. A little girl raised her hand, and the teacher, noting the eager, animated face, said, "Tell us, Ruth." And Ruth arose and answered in loud, clear tones: "Queen Isabella of Spain backed her jewels, and her husband, King Ferdinand, stopped smoking for a week!"

With twitching lips and a twinkle in her eye the teacher said: "Where did you get your information, Ruth?" And the small maiden replied: "From Bill Nye's 'History of the United States.'—New York Tribune.
